

The Challenge

Pets Loyal to Vets is a non-profit group that matches disabled military veterans with specially trained service dogs. In their new training facility they required a floor coating that was tough enough to withstand the heavy foot/paw traffic, harsh cleaning products, and urine commonly found in these types of animal facilities. They were referred to Thermal-Chem certified installer, Ryan Hutton, owner of Mncoat. After a site inspection and discussing the floor coating needs of Pets Loyal to Vets, Ryan recommended a durable and decorative partial flake system.

The Solution

First, Mncoat diamond ground the 1.5 year old concrete to provide a clean, sound substrate for the coating to bond. Then the 22mil system consisting of Thermal-Chem's 726 ArmorPrime, 1062 DecoFinish P81 and 1064 DecoFinish E57 Matte was applied.

The Result

Pets Loyal to Vets really liked the result of the matte finish; it makes the interior space feel warmer and more inviting for the veterans and the animals. The color combination of the flake blend along with the coating matched perfectly to compliment the metal siding, paint and theme of the facility.
